Office Note.

Letter No.156 dated 7th 6th March 1901
to the President, Bangalore City Municipal Commission.

In his letter No.255 dated the 15th
1900, the Deputy Commr, Bangalore
City, recommended that Mr.N.Narasim-engar, Veterinary Asst. Surgeon attached to the Military Deptt, be given allowance of Rs.25 per mensem, for additional duties of inspection of horses &c. imposed upon him under Regulation No.VI of 1899 (a Regulation to provide for and regulate the destruction
and segregation of stray dogs and of mutilated horses and cattle).

Both the Offg Dewan and the Second Commissioner were in favor of granting an allowance to Mr.Narasimengar as proposed, payable from Municipal funds. The President of the Bangalore City Municipal Commission, who was addressed on the subject, has forwards a copy of a Resolution of the Municipal Board to the effect that as the Municipality has its ~~own~~ Veterinary doctor, it is unable to pay any allowance to Mr.Narasimengar.

It has now to be decided whether the Deputy Commissioner should be informed that no allowance will be given to Narasimengar, or whether funds must be found from some other source for paying the allowance proposed, the additional work thrown upon him being unconnected with his ordinary duties in the Military Department.

Mr. Narasimengar's present pay is Rs. 80 per mensem.

I do not know the Inspector

I think that any person appointed for duties of this sort should either have 'certificates of qualification'

be a pensioned carrier who's previous training is a certificate in itself.

In regard to whether the being
Mr. Warramsey is entitled to the allowance
of £25 I think that the Sgt. C. should be called on to report what work
has been done by him as it's absurd to pay if no work

It seems to me that a Veterinary dispensary

 We have two or three officers
 qualified to be in charge of one in Bangalore & possibly in Mysore also. Though no accommodation can be pro-

The report is replete
with interesting details
of the good work done
under the immediate superision of the Asst

the prevention of infectious diseases in my cattle.

There was only one
declared case of Glanders within the

It is satisfactory to note
that the owner as well

The suggestions made

Sir,

I have the honor to acknowledge, herewith, receipt of the notification in the Bangalore city under the Pharmacy and Dispensing Act (Reg. VI of 1877) for the year 1901-1902 received from the Veterinary Surgeon in charge.

The suggestions made
by

by the above Office is:-

- (1) that a better slaughter house should be provided at some distance from the meat-stalls;
- (2) that a better meat market should be provided;
- (3) that the accommodation for animals brought for slaughter should be greatly improved;
- (4) that a Veterinary Dispensary should be opened.

I think these suggestions are good. The first three of them will be dealt with in connection with the City Improvements to be carried out when funds permit. The last suggestion is an excellent one and should be considered.

This consists in manipulating an aqueous solution of silver chloride & mercury, in different proportions so as to obtain a certain amount of silver chloride in solution.

The first step is to prepare a solution of silver chloride in water. This is done by adding a small amount of silver chloride to a large amount of water. The second step is to add a solution of mercury to the silver chloride solution. The third step is to allow the mixture to stand for a period of time. The fourth step is to filter the mixture. The fifth step is to wash the residue with water. The sixth step is to dry the residue. The seventh step is to weigh the residue. The eighth step is to calculate the percentage of silver chloride in the original sample.

Letter No. D. 163, dated the 14th August 1902, from the Deputy Commissioner of the Bangalore District, submitting report of operations in the Bangalore City under Regulation, VI of 1899, for the year 1901-02.

I beg to submit herewith a short report of the work done in Bangalore City under Regulation, VI of 1899, during the year 1901-02.

The procedure adopted in detection and examination of cases was more or less the same as in previous years. The number of cases examined was 54 during the year, of these 14 were found to be infectious and classified as follows :—

Anthrax	...	...	...	...	...	3
Foot and mouth disease	..	...	..	...	...	1
Tuberculosis	.	..	..	...	...	4
Tetanus	..	..	...	..	...	3

Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

This portion of the work being the most important has occupied a greater portion of my time and has been more searching due to periodical outbreaks of contagious diseases in and out of Bangalore City. The institutions that are to be inspected under Regulation, VI of 1899, are 3 in number viz:—

- (i) The slaughter house and meat market.
- (b) The dairies in Bangalore City.
- (c) The cartstands.

The slaughter house and meat market have been inspected 15 times during the year and various sanitary suggestions for prevention and eradication of epizootics have been given to the Veterinary Inspector in charge. These buildings are, both by their location and insanitary condition, have been a source of great danger for human and animal life.

The stalls where meat is exposed for sale has a V-shaped drain to receive the washings of the place but without any proper outlet, thus permitting the filth to sink in the compound.

The places where animals are slaughtered and exposed all night till they are otherwise disposed of, are simply washed with water, thus exposing the meat to early contamination and decomposition. I would very strongly recommend that these places and the stalls where the internal organs are kept for sale should be deodorised and disinfected. The backyard has two stone cisterns to receive the washings from the slaughter house. I have many a time noted that these cisterns are full to overflowing and the wastage finding its way into the neighbouring drain thereby contaminating the air and even the well water in the surroundings. They have at present only one sewage cart to remove the filth which I am of opinion is hardly enough to remove the filth in time so as not to give room for accumulation and stagnation. This subject was brought to the notice of the Veterinary Inspector to be reported to the Health Officer for his advice and necessary instructions in the matter.

The fold where sheep that come from different parts of the Province, where some infectious disease or other might have broken out, are brought and huddled together, is a hot bed for infectious diseases and their dissemination, ought also to be thoroughly disinfected and kept scrupulously clean and dry.

I have been visiting these dairies frequently and have invariably found them very insanitary. In most of these dairies the cattle are picketted to overcrowding in the verandahs or thotties where the floor is paved with slabs which are not properly cemented. Though the urine and faecal matter have been washed off with water daily they have sufficient space, in the cracks of the floor, to stagnate and even sink into the earth and thus the animals are always predisposed for attacks of rinderpest, foot and mouth disease, anthrax and tuberculosis etc. It is no wonder that inmates of such dairies who breathe the same contaminated air and even drink the well water which is contaminated with the excretions of animals, fall an easy prey to such dire diseases as cholera, typhoid, plague etc.

These are found in the various chattrams in Bangalore City. During my inspections I have not only advised and even warned the proprietors to keep the places thoroughly dry and clean, but also to report to the nearest Police Station cases of anthrax, rinderpest etc., among the animals. In spite of my repeated requests they have not been paying any attention to the common rules of sanitation. These places are also hot bed for infectious diseases and their propagation all over the City. Under these circumstances I beg that the Government would be pleased (a) to demolish the City slaughter house and meat market and build a new one at a reasonable distance from the City and on better sanitary principles, (b) to suggest and enforce certain practical sanitary rules for the improvement of these dairies and cartstands.

Rinderpest.—One of the direst and most fatal of the bovine scourges, had hitherto withstood all therapeutical treatment and caused a heavy mortality and loss among cattle and sheep belonging to agriculturists and stock owners at large. Dr. Koch, the greatest of the living Bacteriologists, made a thorough study of this disease in South Africa and found out that bile from affected animals when injected into animals served both as a curative as well as a prophylactic treatment. After a series of experiments with Dr. Koch's bile method both in England and India it was found that immunity among the animals was only of a short duration. Drs. Lingard, Rogers and other scientists have tried some more methods of conferring a larger immunity by the simultaneous and serum methods. The serum method has been tried in Punjab, Rajputana, Bengal and in Ceylon with very great success (see the report of the Director of Agriculture of these Presidencies). The serum for rinderpest has been prepared on a very large scale at the Laboratory of the Imperial Bacteriologist to Government of India and can be got in large quantities and at a cheap cost. If the Government can kindly permit a trial can also be given in our Province with great success.

Another disease of Pathological interest is foot and mouth disease among cattle and sheep. This disease has been treated with more or less success by therapeutical means. A certain and cheaper cure has been found out by Professors

Local Boards Branch, Municipal, dated 23rd October 1902.

Bacelli and Morute. This consists in giving an intravenous injection of solution of perchloride of mercury in different proportions according to the size and age of the animals. As foot and mouth disease has been breaking out in almost all the taluks of the Province, a trial may also be given with great advantage.

This subject has attracted the most careful attention of the scientists all over the world Tuberculosis. (see reports of the Royal Commission on Tuberculosis held in London in July 1901). Dr. Koch, the great German Bacteriologist, was the first to make a special study of this dire disease. He found out the infectious nature of the disease by the detection of Tubercular Bacilli and also tuberculin for testing tuberculous animals with latent forms of this disease. He was of opinion after a series of experiments that animal (Bovine) tuberculosis was easily communicable to human beings through meat and milk of tuberculoed animals. This was confirmed by other scientists too. Dr. Koch at the last "Royal Commission on tuberculosis" held in London startled the whole world that animal tuberculosis was quite different from human Tuberculosis and that milk and meat from infected animals were not vehicles of contagion (this is contradictory to the statement made by him 20 years ago) but continental scientists are opposed to Dr. Koch's opinion. They assert and even prove that animal tuberculosis is communicable to human patients etc.

I am of opinion that the public should be warned against the risk they are running into by using raw milk as food both for infants and adults. It is always safe to boil the milk well before use, even if it has been drawn from healthy looking cows. With regard to tuberculous meat there is not such danger as it is always well boiled before use.

It is gratifying to note that since the passing of the Regulation the public have been very freely availing themselves of the professional help so generously placed at their disposal by the Government and the demand from the labouring classes, viz., the jatkavalas and the cart drivers, for a free Municipal veterinary dispensary has been very great. I beg that the Government would be pleased to open a small dispensary in Bangalore City for treatment of cattle and ponies belonging to such people.

In conclusion I have to thank the Superintendent of Police, Bangalore District, and Special Officer in charge, Bangalore City, under Regulation, VI of 1899, for the keen interest he has been taking and for the invaluable help and advice he has been giving me in detection and disposal of infectious cases. I should not forget to mention in this report the hearty co-operation of the Police Officers and men in Bangalore City who have always shown great zeal in carrying out the work so smooth and satisfactorily.
